ADCO Global Acquires EternaBond®

December 17, 2010

ADCO Global, through its Michigan-based operating subsidiary ADCO Products, has acquired EternaBond®, based in Mundelein, IL.

EternaBond® offers high-performance sealants and tapes for OEM and repair applications.

EternaBond® products are sold into a variety of markets including commercial, institutional and residential roofing; transportation, including RV, rail and trailer; solar panel attachment; and general construction waterproofing and repair.

EternaBond® products are available at 1,000 commercial distributors and retail locations in the US and internationally.

"The acquisition of EternaBond® strengthens ADCO Global's leadership in adhesive, tape and sealant systems in the global Roofing, Transportation and Construction markets. EternaBond® is a well-established and respected brand with exceptionally strong customer loyalty and preference. EternaBond's® rapid growth and adoption in markets currently served by ADCO Global present a unique opportunity to expand our offering of advanced product and application solutions to customers," said John Knox, ADCO Global President and CEO.

ADCO Global is a leading supplier of specialty adhesives, sealants, tapes, and coatings serving Construction, Transportation, and Industrial markets throughout the world via its operating subsidiaries ADCO Products, Inc., in North America and Kömmerling Chemische Fabrik GmbH in Europe, Africa, and Asia. ADCO is a leader in developing specialized solutions for insulating glass window, commercial roofing, solar panel, bus/truck/trailer/RV, automotive, marine, civil engineering, telecommunications, security glass and general construction applications.
