Biobased Adhesive ADCO Roofing Products

ADCO Products Inc., a leading manufacturer of commercial roofing adhesives, sealants, and tapes has introduced a new two-component poly-urethane adhesive for bonding rigid insulation board. Millennium One Step™ Green Foamable Adhesive is a new, patent pending, VOC-free, all-weather adhesive that is manufactured with 45% rapidly renewable materials. The high biobased material content of One Step™ Green makes it a perfect fit for Green Building Projects that require products incorporating a higher percentage of rapidly renewable content. One Step™ Green carries all of the equivalent FM and UL Approvals of the highly popular Millennium One Step™ Foamable Adhesive, and is designed for use with the patented Multi-Bead Applicator Plus to make installation fast and dependable. One Step™ Green is also registered with the United States Department of Agriculture's BioPreferred™ program and has been independently certified for rapidly renewable material content by Iowa State University. For more information on this adhesive, as well as other environmentally friendly products, call 800-248-4010 or visit www.adcocorp.com.
